Dàr̃dūmā̀ begins where the day begins; at first light, when a mat is unrolled and a room is made ready.

Every room we furnish carries the same intention: pieces that are considered, well-made, and priced for the market they serve. We deliver comfort and ceremony, at once.

MISSION

To furnish every space — from a single bedroom to a full hospitality property — with pieces that are considered, well-made, and priced for the market they serve.

VISION

To become a trusted name in furniture and interior décor across West Africa, known equally for design sensibility and dependable delivery.

INTRODUCTION

Darduma — dàr̃dūmā̀ — is the Hausa word for a traditional prayer mat, a woven surface long used in Nigerian homes to mark a space for rest, reflection, or welcome.

At Darduma, we create beautiful, human-centered interiors designed around how people live, move, rest, work, and feel—bringing together aesthetics, functionality, and wellbeing through our LIFE design philosophy.

We don't begin by asking what furniture fits in the room. We begin by understanding how you move, work, cook, rest, entertain, and spend time in each space—then we design the space around that life.

We design and furnish spaces for Nigeria's hospitality and residential markets, sourcing furniture, curtains, and interior décor from Cairo, Turkey, and China, then hand-finishing them in Nigeria.

MEET THE CEO

My journey into interior design is grounded in more than a decade of leading complex projects, understanding human needs and translating ideas into practical solutions. With a background in medicine, public health, health economics and programme leadership, I have developed a distinctive approach to design—one that considers not only how a space looks, but how it functions, how it feels and how it supports the people who live in it.

I bring to design the discipline of a project manager, the curiosity of a researcher and a deep appreciation for human wellbeing. I am particularly drawn to creating refined, welcoming spaces where beauty, functionality and individuality coexist. My previous career has taught me to listen carefully, manage complexity, work collaboratively and deliver against clear expectations—all qualities I now bring to every design project.

For me, this is not a departure from my previous career, but an evolution of it: from improving people's lives through health systems to enhancing their everyday experience through thoughtfully designed spaces.

CLIENT GOALS

FUNCTIONAL

Move through a space that works intuitively around you, where thoughtful layouts, practical choices and purposeful details make daily routines feel effortless, comfortable and beautifully considered from morning to night

CALMING

Experience an environment that feels balanced, welcoming and restorative, where light, texture, proportion and thoughtful details come together to create comfort, warmth and a genuine sense of belonging every day

AESTHETIC

Live beautifully in a space that feels distinctly yours, where colour, form, materials and carefully curated pieces create a cohesive, timeless expression of your personality, taste and way of life

DESIGN CONCEPT

LAYERED COMFORT

Soft neutral tones, orange accents and layered textiles create a grounded, tactile setting. Gentle contrasts, natural forms and intimate styling encourage relaxation, connection and an effortless sense of everyday comfort and belonging.

QUIET LIVING

Layered neutrals, tactile textiles and warm timber create a restorative bedroom centred on comfort. Gentle ambient lighting, balanced symmetry and calming landscape artwork soften the room, encouraging rest, ease and unhurried living

DESCRIPTION

A warm, sophisticated neutral palette inspired by natural materials and contemporary living. The soft ivory, taupe and stone tones create a calm, airy backdrop, bringing light and balance to the space, while the deeper earthy shades add depth, warmth and character through furniture, timber finishes and textured textiles.

Together, these colours create a harmonious and inviting environment that feels modern, timeless and effortlessly luxurious — ideal for refined, comfortable living.

MATERIAL SAMPLE

NATURAL OAK MDF

CHARCOAL PORCELAIN

GREY CONCRETE PORCELAIN

TAUPE STONE PORCELAIN

BEIGE STONE PORCELAIN

WALNUT MDF

A refined palette of timber-effect engineered boards and stone-effect porcelain surfaces, selected for their natural textures, warm neutral tones and lasting performance. The combination of light oak and rich walnut wood finishes with charcoal, grey and beige stone-inspired porcelains creates a balanced, contemporary look with depth and warmth. These materials are durable, easy to maintain and well-suited to modern Nigerian interiors, offering a sophisticated and practical foundation for everyday living.

FLOOR PLAN

FLOOR OVERVIEW

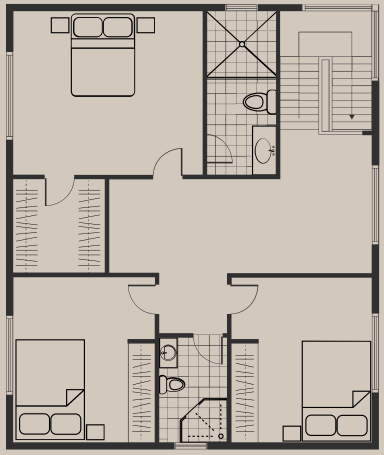

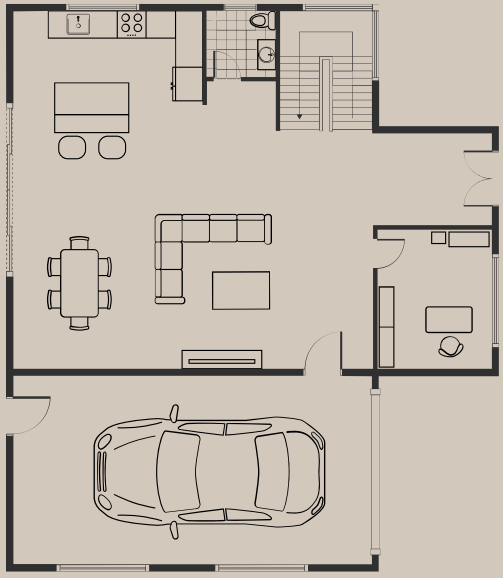

The floor plan is organised around comfortable proportions, efficient circulation and clearly defined living zones. Generous social spaces support everyday family life, while well-proportioned bedrooms and bathrooms provide privacy, functionality and ease of movements.

PROJECT TIMELINE

From Vision to Reality: A Structured Approach to Creating Your Home

Every Darduma project follows a carefully coordinated process that transforms your vision into a beautiful, functional, and thoughtfully finished living space. We work closely with you to refine and approve the final design concept, space layouts, furniture selections, color palettes, materials, and finishes. We agree on a detailed project budget and implementation schedule before execution begins.

We deliver projects in four distinct phases, with clear milestones, defined responsibilities, and regular client updates. This ensures transparency, informed decision-making, and a seamless experience from initial planning through to final handover.

Darduma© — dàřdūmà̀

Darduma offers made-to-order upholstery, custom sizing, and bespoke curtain fabrication for both residential clients and hospitality partners.

For trade, hospitality, and contract enquiries, reach the Darduma team directly to discuss sourcing lead times and custom specifications.

For hospitality and short-let homes where every square foot works for its living, Darduma designs spaces with conscious furniture that doesn't compromise on style.

Each space is designed to complement the other- lights, colors, fabrics, and finishes — the goal is in how it works, how you feel, and not how it looks only.
